A screenshot of a software installation dialog box. At the top left is the "Shareware on Sale" logo. Below it is the title "RoboForm Everywhere". On the left is a small preview window showing the RoboForm software interface. The main area contains three paragraphs of text describing the software's features. At the bottom, there is a question "Download and install?" followed by two buttons: "YES" (highlighted in orange) and "NO" (grey). Red arrows point to the "YES" button from the text above and from the left.
